Dear Mr. President:

Before you finalize your Afghanistan policy, please examine the enclosed book and DVD — 9/11 Unveiled. It is an Executive Summary of several years of research, and shows that much of what we've been told about that tragic day — September 11, 2001 — is false.

My varied work experience has taught me how to sift through complex, conflicting facts and opinions to arrive at defensible conclusions. I challenge the 9/11 Commission to defend theirs.

I managed the National Power Grid Study (directed a couple of dozen, multidisciplinary teams — total 150 persons), and the National Electric Reliability Study for the U.S. Department of Energy. I also set up and directed the Operations Review Division at the Iowa Commerce Commission. I've consulted for the U.S. Agency for International Development, and the World Bank — in Albania, Egypt, Ethiopia, Ghana, Indonesia, Latvia, Pakistan, Russia, and Tanzania.

I was recently on a three week lecture tour of South Africa speaking before hundreds every day, interviews on radio and television, etc. Virtually all who listened came away sharing my conclusions. The U.S. embassy declined an invitation from SAfm to rebut me.

If you and your staff have an open mind, I believe you too will agree. Given the current financial crisis, we cannot afford unnecessary wars.

Sincerely,

Enver Masud
